WEDNESDAY AUGUST 30, 1911

Not what we give, but what we share, For the gift without the giver is bare;
Who gives himself with his alms Feeds three.

Himself, his hungering neighbor, and me. —Lowell.

Treasurer Conkling is on his way home. Is he accompanied by Hemen-way at one thousand dollars per?

Not even the prophets in their wildest dreams could foresee five-and-a-quarter sugar. It is still a clear case of Hawaii's luck.

Governor Frear says the new taxation system is a success. That's where he is right without the necessity for qualification.

While contemplating all the good things which Honolulu is enjoying this year, make yourself an active member of the home investment league.

Nuuanu Valley residents can't see any politics in an appropriation that makes certain the street construction they have been waiting for these many months.

What will you do with all the sugar money? Don't send it out of the Territory. It was made here and the city of Honolulu is entitled to a large share for the local projects that mean development for the city.

This is none too soon for the Supervisors to lay out their plan for giving the city of Honolulu free garbage collection, through the levy of a special tax. Honolulu must be kept clean, and free garbage collection is one of the requisites.

Not only invest your money at home but do your buying in this home town. You can't do better elsewhere, because you can't possibly get what you want and at the same time help your fellow citizen and taxpayers by making purchases abroad.

This profit that is coming in from sugar should be turned into investment channels that will promote the tourist business of this city. Given a sanitary town, the tourists of the world will bring as much money to the Territory as this year's sugar crop.

According to some who consider themselves authorities, there can be no politics in the construction of roads under contract. If that is the case, why should influential Democrats be especially interested in road building contracts, so as to give their followers work?

While he is practicing with the navy, President Taft ought to give the general public a demonstration of a vital weakness by calling suddenly for enough American ships to do transport service for the smallest fleet that could be sent out and look respectable as a fleet.

The people of Honolulu gained their first information on the postponement of the departure of the Fleet, through the Washington service of

EVENING SMILES

"Yes," said Miss Knox, "I saw her in that new spring suit of hers, and she really behaved as if she were happy."
"Well," queried Miss Annum.
"Well, it's remarkable how happy some people can be no matter how they look."

A young lieutenant from a New York regiment surveyed the Texas scenery gloomily and reflected upon his great distance from the lights of Broadway. The smoke from the smelter and the swirling sand from the low-lying hills had spoiled the the Evening Bulletin. It's another demonstration of the well known fact that if you don't get the Bulletin you don't get the news.

President Taft surprised the Navy Department when he issued orders for the Pacific Fleet to make ready for an attack on Honolulu, sailing September 15. It is a good plan to have such surprises frequently. This one found one of the warships in such a condition as will delay the sailing fifteen days—time enough to allow an enemy to do lots of things in days of real trouble.

WHARF RULES AND HONOLULU.

Let no one doubt the importance of the regulations governing the use of Honolulu wharves. These rules can either make or break the port. They can either attract business and promote Honolulu's interests as a center of transshipment, or damage the port, drive business away and add to the quantity of goods "shipped direct."

The progress of the town demands that a medium of fair dealing shall be reached, that shall assist the shippers and at the same time prevent the wharves from being used as warehouses to save the expense of private warehousing.

During the last ten or twelve years, Honolulu has lost thousands of dollars of business through the development of direct shipment to other ports. Whether this is the result of fault on our part or a natural trend of business need not be argued.

The present day need is, that the expense of landing cargoes shall be kept at the lowest possible point and the facility with which merchandise and produce is handled should be raised to the highest standard. It is Honolulu's welfare that is at stake, not personal hobbies.

DR. McCORMACK'S LECTURE.

Honolulu has never been visited by a more interesting apostle of peace and progress than Dr. McCormack, who is to make a public address this evening on medical and sanitation topics.

Better still, Dr. McCormack's visit is exceedingly timely for this community that has to grapple with some exceedingly difficult problems of sanitation and can only secure progress through the cooperation of all interests for the welfare of the community as a whole.

The initial talk given before the members of the Medical Association on Tuesday shows that Dr. McCormack deals with plain facts in a plain way. And then he shows a way out of troublesome situations.

It is safe to presume he will speak in the same manner to the people of the town this evening. He does not pretend to know all the difficulties, but our city is not so very much different from a hundred others that the Doctor has visited and he brings to Honolulu citizens the conclusions gained by a keen observer through years of experience and travel.

The Bulletin is certain that the people of the city will find enjoyment and profit from the public talk to be given in the Opera House this evening, and it urges as many of its readers to attend as possible.

OBJECTIONS TO THE ARBITRATION TREATIES.

It is well to look at the other side once in a while, and there seems to be another side to the arbitration treaty question that is now before the people.

When the Senate Foreign Relations Committee reported adversely on the treaties with Great Britain and France, it branded them as breeders of war, and then adjourned. Eminent authorities have since added the weight of their opinions to the side of the protesting Senators. Among these authorities is Hannis Taylor, who has served the country with distinction in a diplomatic capacity and is generally recognized as a keen analyzer of treaties and an authority on international law.

The danger that threatens the Monroe doctrine seems to be Mr. Taylor's main fear, and he writes as follows:

"The only practical outcome of these treaties will be the submission to tribunals, necessarily dominated by European influences, of the vital and subtle questions arising out of the Monroe doctrine, upon which our overlordship in this hemisphere depends. When we agree with European nations to arbitrate 'questions of vital interest and national honor' behind the veil, the Monroe doctrine and its consequences is really the one substantial thing involved.

"Only special students of the history of the Monroe doctrine, created by the pens of presidents and secretaries of state, understand its peculiar and exceptional relations, to that set of understandings we call international law. It is the outcome of our peculiar position of isolation from the European nations, a position which makes it possible for us to direct the affairs of this hemisphere without entangling alliances with them.

"President Cleveland, who finally gave it scientific definition during the controversy with Great Britain as to the boundaries of Venezuela, said: 'It was intended to apply to every stage of our national life, and cannot become obsolete while our Republic endures. If the balance of power is justly a cause for jealous anxiety among the governments of the old world, and a subject for our absolute noninterference, none the less is an observance of the Monroe doctrine of vital concern to our people and their government.'

"Just as it would be impossible for the nations of Europe to submit the questions arising out of the maintenance of the balance of power there to a tribunal dominated by new world influences, so it is impossible for us to submit the Monroe doctrine and its subtle and far-reaching consequences to a tribunal dominated by old world influences.

"The radical difficulty involved arises out of the fact that as the Monroe doctrine is a law of our own creation for our own special benefit, it has no such recognized status in international law as to make it enforceable by an international tribunal administering that law. It is in its very nature nonjustifiable by any tribunal whatever, because it is an emanation of our sovereign will. It is a law unto ourselves.

"If the President should attempt to defend himself by asserting that it is not the purpose of the arbitration treaties to involve the Monroe doctrine, then let that fact be clearly written across the face of each one of them. The moment that is done the European powers will refuse to be parties to them.

"Let every patriotic American, no matter whether Democrat or Republican, answer in the same spirit whenever any man or set of men attempts to overthrow that precious and peculiar heritage known as the Monroe doctrine, upon which our primacy in this hemisphere depends.

"No one has been more devoted to the cause of international arbitration, within reasonable and patriotic limits, than I have been. In my work on international law, I have been its humble but steadfast defender. The first Hague conference was a brilliant success, because it kept within the bounds of the reasonable and practical. The second Hague conference was a dismal failure, because it attempted to invade the realm of Utopian dreams.

"It is those Utopian dreams which the framers of the pending treaties are attempting to vitalize through a surrender of the basic principle upon which our American system reposes."

HILO R. R. TO USE GASOLINE MOTOR CARS

(Special Bulletin Correspondence.) HILO, Aug. 28.—The Matson steamer Wilhelmina, which is due here next week will bring the Hilo Railroad Company the first of its new gasoline motor cars, which will be used for the light traffic on the road.
The car will come in especially handy for the travel to the Volcano, which is not heavy as a rule and will cut down the expenses on the route to a considerable degree. It will be forty feet in length and will be the first car of this type that has been brought to Hawaii.

NATURALIZATION PAPERS NEEDED

If you are an American citizen and eligible to the elective franchise, but of foreign birth you must bring along naturalization papers in order to become legally entitled to the pages piled in the office of City and County Clerk Kalaanokalani.

WIFE CHARGES HUSBAND GOT DRUNK REGULARLY

Because of the alleged fact that Bento do Coltochaves used to lay in a sufficient store of fire-water when he received his wages each Saturday, to keep him drunk until the following Wednesday, and because of this becoming a usual practice, his wife, Maria da Gloria Coltochaves is asking for a divorce. The couple were married in Honolulu on January 28, 1902 and have four children, three of whom are now living. They last lived together at San Francisco on August 5, 1909. The libellant has resided in Honolulu for the last two years.
For more than a year before they separated the libellee started to drink and at last developed the "stay-drunk-from-Saturday-to-Wednesday" habit.
This conduct so shaped and worried the libellant that it injured her health and she left libellee.

MOVE MADE IN LABOR CASES

The filing of twelve documents in the Circuit Court yesterday afternoon advanced what are known as the "labor recruiting" cases a further step.
Judge William L. Whitney, Attorney-General Alexander Lindsay Jr., Sheriff
William P. Jarrett, Edward D. Tenney, E. Faxon Bishop, Richard Ivers and William Pfotenbauer, against all of whom action is being taken by some of the men arrested on board the Korona, as they were leaving for Alaska, filed a demurrer to amend the complaint brought by Juan Ortiz, Ignacio Ovaab, Ramon Ortiz and Can-dido Oliveira, the complainants in the cases.

As grounds for their present de-murrers, the defendants allege that the complaint does not state sufficient facts to constitute a cause of action against defendants.

They also allege that the complaint is ambiguous, unintelligible and uncertain, as it does not appear whether the action is for false imprisonment or for malicious prosecution or for malicious abuse of process.

The third point alleged is that the complaint joins an action for false imprisonment and an action for malicious prosecution and an action for malicious abuse of process in one count.

The fourth point is that the complaint does not state a cause of action in that it does not allege that the suit on which he alleged invalid process was issued has terminated.

The last point is that the complaint does not state a cause of action in that it alleges that the imprisonment complained of was unlawful, it states mere conclusions of law and no facts.

They therefore ask judgment as to whether they should be required to make any further answer.

HEAVY SALES ON MARKET

Heavy sales of sugar securities marked the day in local stocks today, and the market is livelier than for several days. Continued rise in the sugar prices is forcing even the most pessimistic to a brighter view, and the sales are reflecting the more optimistic tone prevailing.

Heavy buying orders for Olan, some in large blocks, sent this stock up to 6, both between boards and at the session of the exchange this morning.
More than a thousand shares changed hands, much of it at the even figure.
Ewa, Oahu, Pioneer and Waiwala all showed activity. Onomea rose to 48, and Pioneer to 217.50, while the demand for Oahu sent this stock to 32.25. There was some movement in Mellbyde six per cent. bonds at 98.50 and Hilo 1901 sixes at 98. Sugar is officially quoted at 5.24, with reports of holders in New York asking 5.36.

TWO POWERS OF ATTORNEY JUDGE ASKED TO DECIDE

Details of the case in which Jose dos Passos Rodrigues is bringing action against Fortunato Correia, Victorino de Vasconcellos and the Portuguese Benefit Society were filed in a chamber summons in the Circuit Court this morning.

The plaintiff alleges that Fortunato Correia was a member of the society, but was unable to pay his dues and was liable to be dropped from the society under a clause in its bylaws. The plaintiff paid these for him and made an arrangement whereby he was to receive 35 per cent. of any money coming to Correia as benefits from the society.

Later, he alleges, Victorino de Vasconcellos, "for the purpose of defrauding plaintiff and preventing plaintiff collecting" his 35 per cent., induced Correia to execute to him a power of attorney for the collection of any and all moneys due and to become due to him. Previously to this Correia had given plaintiff a power of attorney to collect his dues.

Now he asks that the second power of attorney be set aside and that the society be compelled to pay plaintiff all moneys now due and to become due to Correia as sick and invalid benefits.
Also that the society be compelled to pay him 35 per cent. of all moneys paid to Correia.

Judge W. J. Robinson ordered that the defendants answer the complaint.
